However, it can also fix a wide array of other problems. After it analyzes your computer, MSE will give you the results. In most cases, the software will alert you of any threats found. You can give it a go yourself, but many people like MSE because it can do a better job. It can check your computer multiple times a day, and that means it can catch more threats. It's also cloud-based, which means that it will check your computer on its own, and it will be updated automatically. If you want, you can opt out of its automatic updates, but there are privacy concerns with that. Regardless, MSE is the best antivirus solution available for Windows. Microsoft Security Essentials Free Review 2019 There are times when you will want to manually scan your computer. MSE can be easily set to do so on a regular basis, or you can opt to have it scan automatically. If that's not enough, you can also turn on scheduled scanning.
